For Immediate Release

February 18, 2011

CALGARY, ALBERTA – Western Plains Petroleum Ltd. (TSXV:WPP) (“Western Plains” or the “Company”) announces that it has entered into a farmout agreement (the “Agreement”) with a privately held Calgary-based oil and gas company (the “Farmor”), covering two LSDs on two different sections of land in the Standard Hill and Buzzard area of Saskatchewan (the “Lands”). In consideration of entering the Agreement and the payment of $40,000 to the Farmor, Western Plains earned 50% of the Farmor’s interest in the Lands, and is required to pay 100% of the costs to drill and complete or cap and abandon one test well on each of the two subject LSDs on the Lands (the “Test Wells”) to earn the remaining 50% interest of Farmor in the Lands. Western Plains is obligated to commence drilling the Test Wells on or before March 30, 2011, subject to rig availability and regulatory approvals. The Agreement further provides that upon earning 100% of the Farmor’s interest in the Lands, Western Plains will grant the Farmor a gross overriding royalty of six percent (6%) on production from the interests earned by Western Plains in the Lands. Western Plains intends to commence drilling operations as soon as practicable after receipt of licensing approvals.
